Lost in Michigan...

Just a man, his camera and a black lab named Cooper! Mike Sonnenberg was born and raised in Saginaw. After graduating from Delta College he worked in the automotive industry where he designed test and assembly machines for about 20 years. Starting in 2013 he began traveling the back roads of Michigan in search of forgotten or overlooked places. He created the Lost In Michigan, website posting photos and stories of the interesting places that he had found. His work has been featured in the Detroit Free Press and the Lansing State Journal. He is also considered a “Michigan Expert” by USA Today and has contributed to their Top Ten List of Michigan. In the fall of 2017, he published his first book based on the posts on his website. He still continues to travel around Michigan looking for unique places and telling their stories.

Local Author Visit
@books for lunch

Meet and greet with Amanda M Barratt—local author and library employee! We are fortunate to have Amanda on staff and able to attend our first Books for Lunch of 2018! Join her in discussing her new book, My Heart Belongs in Niagara Falls, New York. Amanda will take you on a journey around (and over) the Falls during the 1870's.

Everyone is welcome to join our Let's Discuss book group on Thursday, January 11th, at 2pm, in the community room. The discussion this month will be on My Grandmother Asked Me to Tell You She's Sorry by Fredrik Backman. It is a story about life and death and one of the most important human rights: the right to be different. Stop by the front desk to get your copy, and join in on the discussion.

Community.

Community Conversations

Are you interested in helping the library find its way in the community? We already offer the services that you have come to use and love, but we are always looking for ways to get out in the community and support you... Join us for our first open Community Conversation on Tuesday, January 23rd at 5pm. We will meet for about 1 hour, at the Library, and discuss what is important to you. This will help us help you in the future!

★★★★ Let's Discuss Junior!

If you are a student in grades 5-8 and love to read...you will surely enjoy our new club, Let's Discuss Jr. We will be meeting the first Wednesday of every month from 5:30pm-6:30pm. It is a fun way to read and discuss new and old books! Our next discussion is Wednesday, January 3rd, 2018.

This month we are changing things up a bit. Instead of reading the same book, you decide what book you want to discuss. Maybe you read a book over Christmas break that you are excited to talk about it. Or maybe you are wanting inspiration for a new book to read. This will be the perfect opportunity for you. Join us and listen to the books that your peers love to read!!
